

The Model V4 and Germany in Prague

Model V4 and Germany is a MUN-type simulation organized as a summer school by the Association for International Affairs (AMO). It will simulate the negotiations of the Visegrad Group and Germany. University students from those countries will participate in a week-long, thoroughly prepared educational programme which will be held in Prague between 23 – 29 July 2017.

Intensive three-day long preparatory workshops will be followed by the simulated negotiations. The series of interesting lectures, interactive seminars, and negotiation activities will await the participants. Several social events will also be a part of the experience.

The V4 and Germany Model will offer the delegates a unique opportunity to meet an inspiring group of young people, try to find solution of current challenges, overcome the fear of public speaking, and practice their English.
