

Association for International Affairs (AMO) is a non-governmental, non-profit organization founded in 1997 to promote research and education in the field of international relations. AMO encourages expression and realization of ideas, thoughts, and projects promoting learning, mutual understanding, and respect among people.

- hosts public debates and international conferences
- publishes papers and analyses
- organizes educational and exchange projects
- presents commentaries on current issues for the local and international press
- brings together people interested in the role of the Czech Republic in global affairs
- aims at increasing representation of women in the field of foreign affairs

---

40
analysts

Education

Ever since 1995, AMO has organized Prague Student Summit, a year-long educational project for more than 350 elementary, secondary school, and university students from all over the Czech Republic. The project enables students to gain knowledge in the field of international relations, develop critical thinking, debating and presentation skills..

80+
events per year

Research

AMO Research Center is a leading independent foreign policy think-tank in the Czech Republic. It analyses foreign policy at national, regional and European level, and organizes public and expert debates.

450+
media appearances
per year

Transformation cooperation

AMO encourages the development of civil societies in the European neighbourhood, mainly in Ukraine and Belarus. The main aim is to transfer the Central European experience from the post-communist transformation towards democracy while working with teachers, students, journalists, and civil servants.